Mrs. Florence B. Kellogg, Red...od City, wife of Water Kellogg, ...al manager of the Pacific Gas and ...tric Company.

Mrs. Eliza J. Turk, Belmont, wife ... storekeeper.

Mrs. Catherine Dennery, San Car... wife of a painting contractor.

Mrs. Nellie Hunter, Lomita Park, wife of department manager for Baker & Hamilton, San Francisco.

Charles I. McKinney, Redwood City, cigar manufacturer.

C. M. Doxsee, Redwood City, president and manager George H. Rice Abstract Company.

Mrs. Mittie M. Winiger, Redwood City, wife of L. B. Winiger, painting contractor.

M. J. Knox, Redwood City, dry goods merchant.

John Rowell, Belmont, rancher.

Frederick D. Lorton, Burlingame, real estate dealer.

T. E. Roe, San Gregorio, rancher.

Seth Cohen, San Mateo, electrical contractor.

District Attorney Swart consumed an hour in making his opening statement. It was a full discussion of the crime, ably presented, showing care in its arrangements.

Dr. Clarke was the first witness called. He was the physician who performed the autopsy. The doctor showed the location of the wounds on the dead priest. He said the blow on the head would have been fatal and in all probability the victim died in a few minutes after it had been inflicted.

Coroner Brooke followed Dr. Clarke.

Others who testified Wednesday were Captain of Detectives Mathieson, the chief of police of San Francisco, Dan O'Brien, Mr. Linn, E. J. Hopkins, the newspaper men who accompanied the party to the grave of the slain priest on the night of the discovery of the body, and others.

Doris Shirley Putnam proved the star witness for the prosecution. Much centered on her testimony. The largest crowd of the week came to see the demure little girl. She held the center of the stage all of Thursday afternoon. She shattered Hightower's alibi.

She told the narrative previously told to the San Francisco palice and the coroner's jury at Colma, that she had not been on an auto ride to San Jose with Hightower on the death night of August 2, as Hightower had claimed, but that she had been, in fact, at the Pantages theater with Lee Putnam, now her husband. That Hightower had dropped her from his sef-starting Ford car about 7 o'clock in the evening, that she had dined alone at the Imperial Cafe and then had met Putnam and gone to the show. That after the show, on the way home, she had noted the time as 10:50; had gone to her room at the Larne, undressed, read a newspaper in bed, and that Hightower had come into the room an indefinite but still a considerable time afterward.

Carl Eisenschimel, the famous handwriting expert of San Francisco, was on the stand nearly all of yesterday. He demonstrated that the letters in the word tuberculosis, that was written on a tent found at the burial place of the priest, were like simiar letters written in the ransom letter received by Archbishop Hanna the morning after the disappearance of Father Heslin. He explained that the "U" in the word tuberculosis was identical with the "U" in the word unconscious in the ransom letter. The expert was given a severe cross examination by Herron. His evidence was damaging to the Hightower cause. Eisenschimel is the famous handwriting expert who gave expert testimony at the famous Dreyfus trial in France and at the noted Slingsby trial in England.

W. F. Herron, counsel for Hightower, is taking the leading part in the case. He is the one who does the cross examining and he is the attorney who also battles with the district attorney. Senator Emmons examined a portion of the jurymen. The task of selecting the jury fell to Mansfield. Attorney Laidley has not as yet taken part in the trial except in an advisory way.

The case will go on this morning and continue until noon, when a recess will be taken till Monday morning.

In all probability the case will not go to the jury until the middle of next week.

One of the last witnesses called by the prosecution late yesterday afternoon was Dr. A. Vickers, a noted bacteriologist of San Francisco, who testified to the human blood stains on the burlap found in Hightower's room and on the boards found in his possession. This testimony connects Hightower with the crime. It is damaging evidence.

Constable Landini of Colma was the last witness called by the prosecution before adjournment late yesterday afternoon. He was with the party who found the slain priest's body at Salada Beach and gave a minute description of the place and the removing of the body from the grave.

It is possible that the prosecution will rest its case late Monday.

FLYERS FLY BACK TO REDWOOD CITY FIELD

Owing to the purchase of the flying field at San Carlos by the Greater San Francisco Speedway Association, the Varney company has taken temporary possession of the Redwood City aviation field. The people of Redwood City are pleased to see the aeroplanes once more carying on their stunts at the old stand. It was rumored yesterday that the government has its eye on the field for a landing place for its mail carriers. The dense fog in San Francisco at times prevents the landing of mail carriers as they arrive from the east. The local field would be a splendid location for the government. It would no doubt buy the property if the taxpayers of this vicinity would make some concessions. This matter is well worth investigation by the chamber of commerce and other official bodies.

On and after this date I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife, Mrs. Mabel Schubert, 520 Manzanita street, Redwood City, California. FRED SCHUBERT.

Teachers' Institute in Annual Session at San Mateo Makes Changes in Management

The annual teachers' institute was called to order last Monday morning by County Superintendent Roy W. Cloud in the pretty auditorium of the San Mateo Union High School. Three selections, well rendered by the San Mateo high school orchestra, made all feel at home. The institute as a body sang "America" with the proper spirit.

It was moved and carried that the usual roll call be dispensed with, but it may be said that nearly all of the teachers were present and tehir appearance was creditable in all respects.

Superintendent Cloud began his remarks by saying that the day's work would be the only one in this county this year, the other two days' work having been arranged to take place in San Francisco in conjunction with the meetings of the California Teachers' Association. He continued by saying that for the one day's work he had done his best for the instruction and inspiration of the teachers by securing the services of Dr. E. P. Cubberley and Dr. E. D. Adams, two of the leading instructors of Stanford University. The former spoke on "Changing Theories of Education" and "The Significance of Educational Measurements;" the latter on "Impressions of the Peace Conference" and "Some Principles of Americanization." These four addresses gave the institute much to think about.

Superintendent Cloud told the teachers where to go for the sessions in San Francisco and advised all of them to join the National Educational Association, the California Teachers' Association and the San Mateo County Association for the good of their profession. He was pleased to say that through the efforts of the associations the teachers of the country schools were able to get $1200 a year and that the average teacher's salary in this county is the highest in the state. He said the teachers were expected to do their best in competing the registration of the children as commanded by the state law; that all of them should file their certificates with him and amke application for San Mateo county credentials, and that the fee for renewal of certificates had been abolished and that certificates would not be renewed without the holder's request; that teachers going from this county to some other place to teach, in the middle of the term, are entited only to as many fortieths of annual salary as they have taught weeks during the year in this county.

He said that the new course of study was a month late in being issued on account of printers' troubles; that the teachers could see it contained many new ideas which they were not obliged to follow, but still it was hoped they would do some good, and that the state laws made teaching along the following lines necessary: Fire prevention, history of California in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades; thrift, more carefulness on the highways, and the teachers were urged to do their utmost to prevent children from leaving school and going out to work for a pittance before they have had time to get the benefits of education.

The institute was entertained with delightful solos by Miss Etta Lapham and Prof. Otis M. Carrington.

Prof. A. E. Montieth, the president of the county teachers' association, and Prof. B. E. Meyers, the secretary, gave an account of their year's stewardship. Their work was well done and their record is clear.

Miss Elsie Rippe, speaking for the committee on nominations, recommended the following officers for the coming year: President, Miss Edith Spellman; vice president, Miss Catherine Elkerenkotter, secretary, B. E. Meyers; deegates to the California Teachers' Association, Miss Caroline Reed and Roy W. Cloud.

It was moved and carried that the recommendations of the nominating committee be adopted by the county organization.

The institute gave a rising vote of thanks for able and friendly service rendered to State Senator M. B. Johnson, Assemblyman Frank Eksward and the teachers' representatives, Misses Anna T. Haley and Pansy J. Abbott.

Mr. Cloud and Mr. Montieth added addresses of tribute to Misses Haley and Abbott for their faithful and successful work.

The institute was adjourned to meet in San Francisco.

CITY TRUSTEES HOLD IMPORTANT MEET

Board Makes Move to Proceed at Once With Paving of Streets

Monday night the board of town trustees held an important meeting at which steps were taken to proceed with the street improvements of Redwood Highlands and Finger avenue.

Dr. Charles Boxton, who lives on Finger avenue opposed the provisions in the proceedings which caled for the construction of a circle in front of their home. It was explained by the doctor that if these proceedings were carried out he would suffer much loss.

City Attorney Mansfield explained that the map of Wellesley Park showed the circle dedicated as a public park and therefore it was impossible to overlook the circle.

C. G. Lambert, on behalf of the Redwood City Realty Company and others on Finger avenue, presented written objections to the use of six inches of rock when they thought four inches would do.

F. H. Bartlett and W. J. Dusel, residing on the avenue, urged the boar dto carry out the contemplated improvements as soon as possible.

After considerable discussion pro and con the board of trustees adopted the usual resolution ordering the work done.

There appeared to be no objections to the street improvements on Redwood Highlands. A resolution was adopted ordering the work done and Clerk Price was directed to advertise for bids to be opened Monday night, October 24, at 7:30.

City Trustee Mabie reported the organization of the city's new board of health. Permission was granted the new organization to rent one of the office rooms in the Drew building on Broadway for $10 a month.

Bonita Parlor, No. 10, N. D. G. W., was granted a dance permit for Saturday night, October 8.

H. C. Kroeger, owner of the California theater, asked for a reduction in his merchant's license tax. He said he was taxed the same as the other moving picture house in the city, which has almost double seating capacity as the California.

City Attorney Mansfield, to whom the matter was referred, explained that the license ordinance fixed the tax on moving picture theaters at $25 a quarter irrespective of the seating capacity.

Trustees Mabie and McNulty said they did not think it was right that the smaller theater should pay the same tax as the larger one, with the revenue considerably less, and on their motion the city attorney was instructed to amend the present ordinance so that the license on theaters will be regulated according to the seating capacity of the house.

W. A. Price, city cerk, reported that City Engineer Dimmitt had examine the bids received at the last meeting for furnishing galvanized pipe to the city for the next year. It was found that the bid of Mark Lally & Co., San Francisco, amounting to $2,034.73, was lowest. The contract was awarded to that firm on motion of Trustee Mabie, seconded by Trustee Kreiss.

City Attorney Mansfield presented a new ordinance regulating electrical work. By its terms the ordinance regulates placing, installing, operating and removing electrical wiring, apparatus and appliances in Redwood City.

DEGREES AND PEDIGREES

Judge Paul McCormick of Los Angeles tells of an agent of the state agricultural society who visted a farmer to secure local exhibits for the big fair The agent explained how fine blooded animals, specially fine fruits, vegetables and other products were desired to make the show attractive The farmer shook his head and said he had nothing good enough for show purposes Just then the farmer s son, a fine strapping boy, came into the yard

"Why not send the boy? He is a fine looking fellow and would show well"

The farmer called the boy over and explained things The boy considered a few moments, then said:

"Tain't no use, dad I ain't got no pedigree."

Which brings up the condition of things as to representation of labor on the board of regents of the University of California. It was stated at San Jose this week that progress was being made in the way of representation on that body. Immediately the Palo Alto Times enters a strong protest, claiming that such action would be making a class distinction, that regents of the university should be selected because of merit and not as representing any class.

But the fact is patent that labor is rigorously excluded from representation on that board in any way. Why?

It cannot be said that there are no labor men capable of filling such positions. But it will be stated that they have not the educational qualifications necessary—they haven't degrees — no educational pedigrees — hence cannot have places. However, the highbrows graciously will accept all the money the laborers can be forced to pay, but will not give them a particle of consideration in the expenditure thereof.

When it comes to mentality it must be admitted that possesison of a college degree is not a guarantee. The men who built the first machines to fly were not college men. It is customary for the scientists to canonize Langley, who worked hard to perfect a flying machine and failed; Langley, the learned man, the scientist, failed where the Wright brothers, bicycle repairers, succeeded Edison is not a college man Others who have done big things might be named. There are just as able men in the ranks of labor as can be found in the faculties of colleges. Why exclude them rigorously from having a voice in the educational affairs of the country?

Perhaps it is their very practical way of doing things that makes the highbrows fearful. For instance, a horseshoer was made state auditor in Colorado. When the governor took a vacation and the lieutenant governor drew the salary the practical auditor docked the governor's pay, much to the astonishment of the politicians and highbrows, who could not believe it posible that a professional man or office holder should be deprived of his money simply because he did not perform the duties of his office. In California, perhaps a labor man might upset the ruling of the attorney general that the University of California is practically a private institution. This ruling was made in the case of a lecturer on irrigation holding a state office, also being allowed to draw pay from the university. The ruling was that the university was practically a private institution and so a state officer could draw pay from both sources.

When it comes to instruction regarding labor questions it is incontestable that the labor side receives scant attention. That is what the workers would like to see changed. They know they can secure nothing so long as the board of regents is made up of people whose interests are all on the other side. As a matter of fair play if for nothing else a change should be brought about. The university is supported by the whole state. No class should be so rigidly excluded as is labor from having a little to say as to its management.

LAND ARMAMENT AND GAS WARFARE

The discussions of the armaments conference will probably be most prominently concerned with the limitation of naval armaments, but two other subjects mentioned in the agenda give opportunity for debates that may develop into prime importance. The limitation of land armaments—the restriction of the size of armies—is something to which all the allies have given more or less attention since the armistice, but there is not the element of international competition that is found in the navies of the world. But the maintenance of huge armies is quite as expensive as the construction of big navies an dan agreement on their limitation would reduce the financial burden of nations quite as effectively as a naval holiday.

The control of new agencies of warfare offers another field of discussion similar to the deliberations of The Hague convention. It is comparatively easy to formulate rules governing the use of poison gas and airplanes in any future war, but to devise means for preventing a militaristic nation from acquiring menacing stores of those weapons is quite another matter Experts have predicted that the next war will be a war in the air, a feature of which will be deadly gas bombs. The armaments conference may accept that prediction and undertake to restrict the nations of the world from laying up huge stores of gas or building big air fleets, just as they propose to fix limits for the future building of battleships. It is certain that the scope of the conference will be considerably broadened beyond what is in the public mind at present and it is to be hoped that the results to be achieved will extend beyond the mere limitation of navies.

NAME SAME

Senator King (Dem.) of Utah is quoted as asserting that a vast part of legislation is forced through by faddists and corrupt interests. He has a poorer opinion of congress than we have. We don't believe it. A lot of legislation is proposed by faddists. Much is proposed by selfish interests. Some little may be fostered by corrupt interests. But in our humble judgment none of it gets through the two houses of congress unless it has real merit and has the support of a very respectable portion of the unselfish, honest and sensible citizens of the United States. We have too high a regard for congress to think that very much really bad legislation is "forced" through. The only instance we now recollect of legislation actually "forced" through was the Adamson law, which congress passed at the instance of the four brotherhoods, who threatened to tie up the transportation systems of the country unless the act should be passed by a certain hour. That was in 1916 and the act was passed with the aid and influence of President Wilson, who signed the bill with four pens, which were bestowed as tokens of honor and esteem upon the spokesmen of the brotherhoods. Aside from that bill, which was passed by Senator King's own party, and perhaps a few others forced through by President Wilson, we do not know of any legislation that has been "forced" through congress. We would like tohave him name another measure so passed

LEVY FOR LEVIATHAN

It is understood that the shipping board looks very favorably upon the proposition to put the giant steamship Leviathan into condition for ocean traffic. The boat is one of the biggest ships in the world. She is the former German liner Imperator, taken over by the United States at the beginning of the war and converted into a troop transport. All her gorgeous fittings were torn out to make room for soldiers' bunks and it is said it would cost more than $8,000,000 to put her in shape again for passenger traffic. After the armistice she was used to bring thousands of our troops back home, but since that time has been laid up at her New York dock at a maintenance cost of about $50,000 a month. Mr. Lasker believes it would be profitable for the United States to put the boat into service again and a final decision on the question is expected in a few days.

WANT U. S. WHEEL CHAIR

Lord Balfour declares that the league of nations is "greatly crippled" because certain large nations remain outside. He might better have put it in the singular and said "nation," for it was the United States that was expected to furnish the support for the cripple.

LET GEORGE DO IT

Senator Glass and other leading Democrats are said to be demanding a reorganization of the Democratic national committee on the ground that its work in the New Mexico senatorial campaign was unsatisfactory. Senator Glass is unjust to the committee. Considering the material with which they had to work, the Democratic campaign managers did a splendid piece of work not only in New Mexico but in the campaign of 1920. It was Wilson and McAdoo and Kitchin and Baker and Daniels and others who dominated the party that brought on the disaster of 1920. It was the good record of the Republican administration up to date that resulted in the election of a Republican senator in New Mexico a few days ago. Why blame George White? Give him a reasonably good party record to work with and he might show some results at the polls.

DEMOCRATIC JUSTICE IN VIRGINIA

The effort of a lot of good people in the state of Virginia to get a Republican administration into power in state affairs might well be extended to the judicial department. According to press dispatches one of the judges had before him a man who was indicted on four separate charges, on one of which he was convicted. The judge released him on condition that he would leave the jurisdiction and stay away 30 years. That merely unloads a convicted criminal onto some other jurisdiction. We doubt that the good people of Virginia believe in that sort of interstate courtesy.

A Fly, a Flea and a Flue

A fly and a flea in a flue
Were imprisoned. Now what could they do?
Said the fly, "Let us flee!"
"Let us fly," said the flea—
So they flew through a flaw in the flue.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, October 3.

Daniel C. Imboden, secretary of the Peninsula Bureau of Chambers of Commerce and Civic Associations, addressed the board and presented and read a resolution that he asked the board to adopt, favoring the construction of the proposed Dumbarton bridge across San Francisco bay. The resolution included instructions to the county engineer of San Mateo county to submit a report at the earliest convenience as to the tentative location of the bridge, method and type of construction and other necessary data in the premises, and called for the appearance of the county surveyor and the board of supervisors at a meeting before the United States board of army engineers to be held in San Francisco October 7.

A motion to adopt the resolution was made by Supervisor Hickey and seconded by Supervisor Brown.

Supervisor MacBain addressed the board and stated that he was in favor of the Dumbaton bridge project, but that he was opposed to taking any action at this time that might bind the county in a financial way to the construction of the bridge. He said he would not vote for the resolution until he knew more about the plan.

Chairman Thompson explained that he had read over the resolution very carefully and had scratched out any parts that might in any way bind the supervisors or the county.

John J. McGrath, president of the Peninsula Bureau of Chambers of Commerce and Civic Associations, addressed the board and stated that there was nothing in the resolution to hold the supervisors of San Mateo county responsible for the construction of the bridge. He further stated he believed 95 per cent of the citizens of the county are in favor of the bridge and he told of the vast benefits that would result to the county and this section of the state through the carrying out of the proposed project.

Frel H. Drake of San Carlos also spoke and explained that the law requires that whatever action is taken in the construction of the bridge, whether it is built by the county or through private capital, the initiative in the matter must come from the board of supervisors of San Mateo county.

Attorney Theodore Savage of San Francisco corroborated what Drake had stated and added that the resolution merely put the matter in the shape of a going affair and indicated that the supervisors at a later date intended to proceed with the construction of the bridge if plans were found feasible. He said that the United States army engineers would not look favorably upon the plan unless the initiative came from the board of supervisors of San Mateo county.

Asa E. Hull, president of the San Carlos Chamber of Commerce, also spoke in favor of the resolution.

Supervisor MacBain said he was still not satisfied with the wording of the resolution and he suggested that the matter be laid over until next Thursday, when the board could hold a special meeting and go more fully into the matter.

Attorney Savage explained the need of getting the necessary data before the army engineers for the meeting on Friday next and he asked for a few minutes to look over the resolution and see how it could be changed to meet the objections of Supervisor MacBain. A short consultation between the interested parties was held and then Supervisor Hickey presented and read the resolution in its modified form. Supervisor MacBain said he was satisfied with the resolution as it now read and on motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor Brown, it was unanimously adopted. The resoltuion reads as follows:

"Whereas, it is necessary for the public convenience and the public interest requires the construction of a bridge for automobile vehicles, pedestrians and other purposes across and over the south arm of San Francisco bay at or near Dumbarton Point and near and to the south of the present railroad bridge of the Southern Pacific company, which said proposed bridge would have its western terminal in the county of San Mateo near the place known as Cooley Landing, and its eastern trminal in the county of Alameda near the town of Newark,

"Resolved, that the county surveyor of San Mateo county be and he is hereby requested to submit to this board at his earliest convenience a report and recommendation upon the said proposed bridge, including the tentative location, method and type of construction of the same, and other data necessary in the premises:

"Resolved, that this board and said county surveyor appear before the United States board of army engineers at a session thereof to be held in San Francisco, Cal., on the 7th day of October, 1921, to consider various plans for bridging the Bay of San Francisco and advocating the construction of said bridge near Dumbarton Point."

President J. J. McGrath, on behalf of the Peninsula Bureaus of Chambers of Commerce and Civic Associations, thanked the board of supervisors for its action in the matter, stating that the building of the Dumbarton bridge would be one of the greatest achievements in the history of California and would bring untold benefits to San Mateo county and this section of the state.

The county horticultural commissioner, A. W. Tate, Jr., submitted his report for the month of August, showing the number of inspections he had made during that period.

A communication was received from the trustees of the Greater San Francisco Speedway Association asking for the endorsement of the supervisors of San Mateo county in their project of building a race track at San Carlos. Action in the matter was laid over for two weeks, on motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Francis.

A communication was received from S. D. Olofson of Halfmoon Bay asking for the improvement of Venice avenue leading to his home. The matter was referred to Supervisor Hickey, in whose district the thoroughfare is located.

A bid was received from A. Mattson of San Bruno in the sum of $500 for constructing a slope protection wall on the Halfmoon Bay road near Salada Beach. This being the only and lowest bid submitted the contract was awarded to Mattson, on motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor MacBain.

County Engineer Geo. A. Kneese submitted plans and specifications for opening Colma creek from the bridge on the Cowell estate property northerly to the state highway bridge. The plans and specifications were adopted, on motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor MacBain, and Mrs. Nash, the clerk, was directed to advertise for bids to be opened Monday, November 7.

Deeds were received from William Hagedorn and others conveying to the county of San Mateo Menlo avenue in the Colman tract at Menlo. These were accepted on motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Francis, and ordered recorded.

Attorney Lee T. Ross of Redwood City presented the proceedings and returns relative to the election held in the Sequoia Union high school district on August 26 to bond th district for $300,000 for constructing a new school building. A resolution calling for the issuance of the bonds and directing the clerk to advertise for bids for the same was adopted on motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Hickey.

Attorney Ross filed with the board duplicate certificates from the county auditor and the county superintendent of schools relative to the election.

On motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor Brown, it was ordered that an extra traffic officer be allowed on the Bay Shore road in the first township for special duty next Sunday.

It was announced by the chairman that the San Mateo county apportionment from the state motor vehicle fund amounting to $24,219.51, had been received and was ready to be distributed among various road the funds. He stated that there also is $2,286.47 in the unapportioned good roads fund.

On motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor MacBain, it was ordered that the money in the two funds be divided equally among the five road districts in San Mateo county.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

Supervisor John MacBain is preparing to macadamize and oil Menlo avenue from Ringwood road to the bay road. He is to add more rock to the present roadbed and will add screenings to the surface covering the whole with a good coating of oil. When completed the thoroughfare will be one of the most attractive of any in the district. This community is growing rapidly and numerous fine homes dot the beautiful landscape.

The Menlo Park Theater will open its doors to the public on October 15. The playhouse is constructed in a comfortable and cozy way and the pictures to be shown will be of the cleanest. Murray & Meyers, the proprietors, have spared no expense in providing every comfort for their patrons. It will be equal to any playhouse on the peninsula.

On Wednesday the Mission High School eleven was defeated on the Warren School gridiron by the Menlo Park football team by a score of 6 to 0. Joseph Kelly coached the local team. The contest was the best ever seen on the peninsula, the local boys having outplayed the visitors at every turn.

The Halfmoon Bay nine was defeated by the local baseball team at the Palo Alto community center by a big margin last Sunday. The visitors from over the mountains were no match for the home team.

Menlo Parlor, Native Daughters of the Godden West, entertained the Native Sons' and Native Daughters' parlors of the county at their headquarters Wednesday evening. Large delegations were present from various parts of the county. There were about 100 guests present, who indulged in dancing. Refreshments prepared by the Native Daughters were served in the hall. The happy event was much enjoyed by all.

The warm weather of the past few days has ripened the tomato crop at Atherton. Large shipments are being made daily to the canneries in San Francisco. The price this year is attractive and all growers will make good profits.

At the Martha Jane Pantry Shelf, new goods, also novelties in packages, of jams and jellies, are arriving daily, there being many purchasers who are enthusiatsic on the merits and quality of these jams, jellies and assortment of "sweets."

James Layne, a popular resident of Menlo Park, has opened the Pioneer Livery Stables on Oak Grove avenue, recently vacated by the riding school. He has a number of polo ponies, saddle horses and ponies suitable for children for hire and for sale. Mr. Layne, who is an experienced liveryman, will personally supervise the business.

Cyril A. Guglielmoni, grand secretary of the Ancient Order of Druids, has returned from an organizing trip to San Luis Obispo, where he organized Cayucas lodge of 250 members. He maintains an attractive home in Menlo Heights.

The new groceteria in the O'Keefe block will open on Monday next. Mr. Bell, the proprietor, a prominent business man from Mountain View, will operate a chain of stores on the peninsula. Menlo Park will be known as Store No. 2. As an experienced grocery man and live wire business head he promises a revelation regarding prices. See his advertisement elsewhere in this paper.

Suiting th occasion to the summery weather, Mrs. Frederick W. Sharon gave a garden party Tuesday at her home in Menlo Park, where she entertained in honor of Dr. and Mrs. George B. Lee of New York, who leave the last of the week for the east. Others at the party were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oxnard, Mesdames James Ward Keeney, William Mayo Newhall, Jr., Alexander Garceau and Stetson Winslow. J. Veverka, local station agent, is enjoying a vacation of a month with his parents in Colorado. His place is being filled by H. S. McDaniel of Seattle.

The duck seaso nopens today. Local hunters were off to the marshes at an early hour in search of coy mallard, quick winged teal and squawking spoonbill. During the week several large flocks of ducks came down from the north, but there will not be many ducks on the marshes until the first rains. Among those who are getting busy are Will Casey, the veteran hunter, Will Carnduff, W. J. Murray, Thomas Fitzpatrick and Andrew McGuckin.

The Fred McNear cellar was entered during the week by some thirsty knight of the road and several bottles of choice liquor were removed. No trace of the liquor can be found. It vanished like the culprit.

The Native Daughters will give a card party on October 12 in Native Sons' Hall. Good prizes will be given the winners of the game.

Miss Agnes Powers, one of Menlo Park's reigning belles and youngest daughter of Mrs. James Powers, was united in marriage in the Catholic church of Santa Clara to Maurice Vandame, a prominent business man of that city. After the ceremony the wedding supper was served at a cafe in San Jose. The pretty bride was born and raised in Menlo Park and has a host of friends here. Mr. Vandame is the proprietor of a butcher shop in Santa Clara and has another in Los Gatos. The couple will reside in Santa Clara. They have the best wishes of all for a long and happy married life.

Among the charming miniatures which Mrs. Lyon will show will be a head of Samuel Shortridge, Jr., of Menlo Park, son of Senator Samuel Shortridge. Mrs. Payne, at whose studio the exhibit is to be held, is the wife of Dr. Eugene Payne of San Francisco. She has lived in both Palo Alto and Los Altos and has an enthusiastic following in the community. Mrs. Lyon has sent out cards for a studio day on October 8 at her home, 1551 Emerson street, Palo Alto, at which she will feature a number of Mrs. Payne's studies in photography.

Several Menlo Park residents plan to leave next week for San Francisco to reopen their town houses for the winter. Among them are Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Shortlidge, Mrs. George Fife and the Perry Cumbersons. The majority of the summer places down the peninsula will probably be kept open until later in October and perhaps until November.

Last Friday night the base hospital and its sick soldiers were made happy enjoying an hour of music and dancing and songs, of which Miss Gertrude Pyle sang two beautiful selections. Gertrude also danced very gracefully with music furnished by a San Francisco jazz band.
